

1. When you take a trip, do you tend to plan every detail or just figure it out as you go? How does your approach to travel reflect the way you approach your spiritual life?

2. Read Psalm 1.

What contrasts do you notice in this Psalm? What are the key differences between the person who delights in God's law and the person who follows the path of the wicked?

Why do you think the Psalm opens with what the blessed person does not do (walk/stand/sit)? What progression do you see in those verbs?

What does it mean to "delight" in the law of the Lord? How is that different from simply reading the Bible out of duty?

Verse 3 paints a picture of a tree planted by water. What do you think that imagery says about the spiritual life God desires for us?

3. If your current spiritual life were a tree, how would you describe its condition? (Thriving, dry, shallow roots, bearing fruit, etc.) What do you think has contributed to that? What are some "voices" or "paths" in your life that may be pulling you away from being rooted in God's truth? How do you recognize them?

4. What's one practical way you could start "delighting" in God's Word this week? Example: choosing a consistent time and place to read a Psalm, journaling thoughts, reflecting on a verse during the day.

5. The Psalm ends with the idea that the Lord watches over the way of the righteous. What encouragement does that give you for the journey ahead?
