BEYOND SUNDAY

Questions for reflection, conversation, and application

Connecting Together

Where do you feel the most pressure in life to prove yourself or measure up? Why do you think it can be easier to accept grace for salvation than to live by grace every day?

Connecting to the Passage

Read Galatians 3:1-5. What questions does Paul ask the Galatians? What problem is he trying to expose? What do you think Paul means by, "Having begun by the Spirit, are you now being perfected by the flesh?" What is the difference between effort and earning in the Christian life? Why does that distinction matter?

Read Galatians 3:6-9. What does Abraham's story teach us about faith and our relationship with God?

Read Galatians 3:10-12. Why can't obedience to the Law make us right with God? What happens when we compare our performance to other people instead of God's standard?

Read Galatians 3:13-14. What does it mean that Christ "redeemed us from the curse of the law by becoming a curse for us"?

Connecting to Application

Where are you most tempted to measure your relationship with God by how well you've been doing lately?

How would your relationship with God change if you truly believed His acceptance of you rested on Christ's performance rather than yours?

What are you still trying to do without the Spirit? Where might God be calling you away from self-reliance and back to dependence?

This Week

Pay attention to moments when you think, "God must be happier with me because..." or "God must be disappointed with me because..." What does that reveal about where you're placing your confidence? Choose one spiritual practice this week, such as prayer, Scripture, serving, or generosity, and intentionally approach it differently. Instead of doing it to earn something from God, do it as a response to what He has already given you.
